JAZZ is a living, moving thing. It reveals the mood of its players, bringing excitement, the blues, or occasionally discord. Just as Brubeck's modern sounds reflect the pulse of life itself, and Kenton's progressive ideas show a searching for something new, the Titanian will try to to bring to you a pictorial arrangement that reviews the sound, movement, and enthusiasm of our school life.

Through the theme of JAZZ, we offer you the progressive attitude of San Marino High School: the clear and constant beat of striving for new achievements, the modern surroundings, the introduction of new ideas, and the nostalgic echoes of memory that we will carry into the future. These things are part of JAZZ, part of our school, and part of our lives.

ADMINISTRATION

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS. . .

The unlimited vitality and the exuberant enthusiasm of youth are very similar to the fast moving and nerve tingling beat of the jazz band. Thus, it is quite fitting that the theme of this year s annual be "jazz." They go together and belong together because they typify the spirit and boundless energy of the high school student

You are the envy of everyone. The small child looks forward to high school, the adult looks back at it, and both talk about it with a sparkle in their eye, which shows either anticipation or pleasant memories. You are in the spotlight and we are all proud of you

Your school life is recorded through the activities in which you participate No doubt, they have been many and I trust both enjoyable and profitable

May I take this opportunity to congratulate you on the splendid achievements of the past and express my best wishes to you in the future

PRINCIPAL

To my friends, the graduating class of 1957, my congratulations on your completion of this rung of the educational ladder!

It is interesting that the staff should have chosen jazz as the theme of the 1957 Titanian, for there are many characteristics shared jointly by jazz and our teen-agers. Jazz is truly the music of youth—its driving beat and momentum expressive of the energy, optimism, and "forward look" of high school age youth. Furthermore, jazz is vividly expressive, conveying the gamut of emotions—joy, sorrow, anticipation, regret. No one can be in the company of teen-agers long without finding that they too are abundantly expressive. Extemporization seems to be a keynote to jazz—a jazz piece is never played twice the same way. In the same way, individualism is a mark of youth—the probing experimentation of the teen-ager as his personality develops within the limits imposed by society and its conventions.

I'm not so much concerned that you remember the Pythagorean Theorem or other bits of factual information picked up in our classrooms, but I do hope that you have learned to think logically for yourselves, that you judge sources of information critically, and that you have the fortitude to stand up and be counted when you're on the side of right and justice. No better piece of advice can I give you than, "Search deeply, think freely, act boldly!

SENIORS

The dictionary defines a Senior as someone of higher rank or standing. The dignity and prestige that goes with being a Senior is not enjoyed at any other time during high school days, and the Class of 1957 is no exception.

Working toward graduation, taking College Board Exams, and deciding how to spend the next years of their lives are serious matters which deserve earnest thought and preparation.

There is a much lighter side to being a Senior. The many Senior parties and the white sweaters of the Senior Class section during assemblies are privileges of which only a Senior is worthy. The all-night Grad Party is another special event reserved for the most superior.

The Class of 1957 has lived up to the definition of its rank and deserves all the admiration and respect of the rest of SMHS. Its members have proven themselves worthy of their title, Seniors.

JUNIORS

The Class of 1958 has always been known for the enthusiasm and vitality of its members. This was very evident during basketball season, when the Juniors sold refreshments to the spectators and stayed after the games to clean up the gym

Another contribution from the Juniors was the sale of Student Directories to the student body. These handy little books saved many people the embarrassment of a wrong number or a misspelled name

The money from these projects was largely responsible for an unforgettable Junior-Senior Prom. Held in the gardens of the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel on May 24, this dance was the Juniors' contribution to the Senior Class. It also helped to awaken the rest of the school to the fact that, next fall when the Class of 58 takes over as leaders, it will be a unified group that is proud of its accomplishments and wants to make San Marino High School proud of them

SOPHOMORES

Who were the girls who stayed up all night at the Girls' League Slumber Party? What class claims the students who learned to drive at the expense of a '57 Ford with dual-control? Who else? The Sophomores!

The members of the Class of 1959 can no longer be called "lowly Frosh". They're full-fledged Titans, now, with a great deal of lively interest in their class and its activities

This class had charge of Spring Sports Concessions, and also sold pom poms during basketball season. Another of their money-making projects was washing cars in the spring, an idea never tried by a class at SMHS. Because of the spirit and participation by the members of the class, these events were very successful and brought in the funds for a memorable Sophomore Class Dance in the middle of March

The Sophomores are well on their way to becoming "upperclassmen", and with such a fine start in high school they're certain to be successful as future leaders of San Marino High

FRESHMEN

As usual, when the Freshman Class made its debut on the SMHS campus, there were many varied remarks. The most common question was, "Did we look like that when we were Freshmen?". Some remarked about the new Freshman girls, and even more were heard to say, "Look at that cute Freshman boy. I sure wish I were young again!

The Class of 1960 has taken a lot of joking because of its "lowly" status. Freshman initiation served to humble the new Titans properly, but it also showed the upperclassmen that they could take a joke as well as any other class

Throughout the year the Frosh have proven their worth. At Christmastime they sponsored a very worthwhile project for the benefit of an orphanage in Ensenada. In the fall they held the annual Freshman Day, where the class as a whole enjoyed recreation and dinner at school. They also sponsored the Annual Sign Party in June

The rest of San Marino High is beginning to realize that these Freshmen have even more pep and vigor than the average Frosh. They are off to a good start as Titans, and can be expected to maintain an outstanding record in high school

ORGANIZATIONS

This year the "big seven" did a bang up job of running the student government. Under the leadership of Jim McDonald who emceed the assemblies with ease and dignity, the council worked long and hard to maintain high standards throughout San Marino High School.

These students were voted to their respective offices by the student body. Taken into consideration were their scholarship, citizenship, and fine qualities of leadership. After receiving these honors they maintained their standards throughout the entire year.

During the year they have voiced the student body's wishes, worked together to promote worthwhile school functions, and established new standards for the student body.

C. S. F.

Scholarship for service is the motto and purpose of chapter 462s of the Californ a Scho arsh p Federation at SMHS The membership in this club represents the superior stu dents of the school. They have met the qualifications of three A s and a B, nothing lower than a B in citizenship, and no F's in academic work. This club works for a balanced group of students and thus gives credit toward membership to officers of school clubs

Belonging to C S F. is quite an honor, and many privileges are awarded its mem-bers. Once a month the organization holds a meeting and each semester a field trip is taken. During the first semester, the field trip was to the Los Angeles Police Department, which was educat onal as well as entertaining. In return for these privileges C.S.F. has provided the school with two vend ng machines for fruit and pens

Life membership is awarded those students who have been members of C.S.F for four semesters, one of which must be in the senior year This is shown by a gold seal on the diploma, and makes the member eligible for many kinds of scholarships

TRI - Y COUNCIL

The Tri Hi Y Council is a composite of the girls who participate in Tri-Hi-Y actively. Tri-Hi-Y was formed to spread throughout the world the true spirit and meaning of Christianity

This is the basis for the great enthusiasm for Tri-Hi-Y and its activities at San Marino High Many orphanages, settlement houses, and under privileged areas have been aided by the g rls in Tri Hi Y. As these activities have been supported, a great movement has taken place to give aid in foreign lands Each program has met w th great success

Not only do the members of Tri Hi Y spend worth while hours in service to others, but also they help themselves to become better persons through good, clean fun. Many meetings are devoted to social and recreational activities with emphasis on Christ an fellowship. One can honestly say that Tri Hi-Y at San Marino High School is building a better America

MISS DELTON

The crowning of her majesty is an event which is always anticipated by the whole student body. She is selected by the football team from all the girls at SMHS and crowned at the Royal Ball, given in her honor.

Possessor of queenly charm and grace, Susie Pelton is not only lovely to look at but her personality captivates all who know her. Her attendants were Senior Princess Pat Kay and Junior Princess Linda Morris, both outstanding personalities on campus. These girls have been bestowed with a great honor that they will long remember.

PEP

The bulletin notice reads, "There will be a pep rally in the girls' gym at 12-30 today," or "Tonight we play South Pasadena on their field. Be sure and come to the game." Although similar messages are read almost every day and many of the students don't heed them, the songleaders, cheerleaders and flag girls appear at every game Whether the weather is 32° or 88° these pepsters are out in front of the stands leading the cheers which encourage SMHS victory Even when a game is lost, they keep the pep of San Marino active, and throughout the year have done their best to make good sportsmanship and lively spirit a part of winning

Without this small portion of students, San Marino's enthusiasm would have no leadership, and the tremendous all-white San Marino rooting section would serve no purpose. The job of the pep squad might be trying and exhausting but they receive their reward when SMHS out-shouts their opponents.

STAFF

A San Marino High School Annual Staff is a very strange phenomena to behold. Not too many outsiders are allowed to see one in action, because the minute a stranger approaches everything in the staff room seems to disappear. The layout goes under a desk, pictures are turned upside-down and concealed under some handy object, and staff members either become very nonchalant or completely fade out of sight.

There are several times a year, however, when the personnel can be very easily distinguished from any normal students. These occasions are called deadlines. They bring many peculiar scenes to the campus, such as a staff member trying in vain to identify the "second girl from the left in the top row," or photographers snapping pictures of flagpoles, lamp posts, or trash cans, to fill the tall thin space in the layout labelled "school scenes."

Although the producers of the Titanian sometimes wonder why they didn't take Study Hall instead of Graphic Arts, their efforts will be greatly rewarded by a successful yearbook. They will thumb through their copy and think to themselves, "That was quite an experience."

The first production to hit the stage in '56-'57 was the annual 'Christmas Vespers". The dramatic contribution to this program being "The Other Wiseman", starring Mike Demaree

The All School Play, "The Perfect Idiot", next in line, found Jerry Puttler in a new field as a leading man, opposite Sue Riddle

The Titan varsity opened this year's league play on October 5th by downing Artesia 34-12 at Memorial Stadium in Excelsior. Entering the fifth game of the season on October 19, the San Marino Varsity showed its typical Titan spirit and drive by smashing the Arroyo Knights 12-0. The Titans went into the game lacking two fine players, Bill Cooper and Jim Connelly, but the powerful first string backfield of Rodi, Oltmans, and Kerckhoff, kept the Titans on the winning end

The team was exceptionally well-rounded in field events as well as running, as the records prove. The 1957 Varsity Baseball team proved itself to be very aggressive and alert by winning six games out of six starts. This year the team set out to establish such a high standard and tradition that it will give all other teams of the future a goal to strike for and attempt to reach.

This year the team initiated a Yankee cut uniform of royal blue and white pinstripes that has met with the favorable approval of the team, student body and the community. As this copy goes to press the varsity opens its season against Artesia High School, and with the help of a fine pitching staff and good hitters it should bring back to SMHS the Rio Hondo League Championship.

Friendliness, good sportsmanship, and co-operation are the aims of GAL. After-school participation in sports is offered to any girl in school. The activities include volleyball, basketball, softball, swimming, and various individual sports. Points are accumulated through participation and those girls having the highest number of points at the end of the year are given awards at the annual GAL Awards Breakfast

The organization is now five years old. Under the able direction of Miss Cheuvront, GAL has grown from a membership of fifty to over two-hundred

This year the Girls' Athletic Department acquired a new teacher, Miss Nixon. Through her guidance the swimming program was very successful. She has also assisted in the other activities connected with GAL

This club offers something not offered by other clubs on campus; the opportunity to participate on a competitive basis with other girls in the school, but with friendliness and sportsmanship as the keynote of the competition
